

Where to Put The Christmas Gift Books

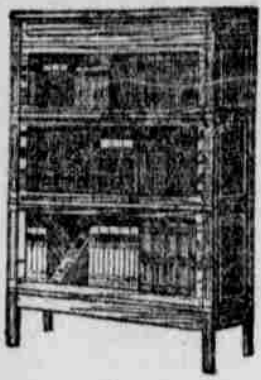

These handsomely bound gift books that Christmas has brought to you as expressions of love and friendship, deserve protection commensurate with their sentimental if not intrinsic value.

Keep them looking well cared for by housing them in—

Globe-Wernicke

Sectional Bookcases

—where they will be safe against the ravages of dust and climatic conditions.

Perhaps this Christmas has caused your library to outgrow its quarters, an impossibility with a Globe-Wernicke Sectional Bookcase, as another section can be added at small cost, to care for the new volumes.

We carry a representative stock of these cases and shall consider it a pleasure to demonstrate their merits.

Call and see them; or 'phone and our representative will show you by catalog. Sole agents for Barre.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Charles Zanoni, Jr., of North Main street has been passing a few days in St. Johnsbury on business.

Misses Micheline and Annie Fontana of Central street have returned home, after passing a few days with friends in Burlington.

Vincitia lodge, No. 10, Knights of Pythias held its installation of officers last evening at the lodge rooms in the Blanchard block. At the close of the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served in the dining room and a short entertainment was given. The attendance was large. The following officers are to serve for the ensuing year: Paul Leavitt, chancellor; H. L. Campbell, vice chancellor; W. W. Parry, prelate; F. W. Nichols, master of work; F. E. Robinson, keeper of records and seal; William Mercer, master of finance; W. J. Clapp, master of exchequer; William Black, master at arms; Robert Mackie, inner guard; D. J. Morse, outer guard.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Secretary Harold P. Hinman of the Barre Granite Manufacturers' association left this morning for Bridgeport, Conn., where he is to be one of the speakers at the annual midwinter meeting of the Connecticut Retail Monumental Dealers' association. Mr. Hinman has been assigned the topic, "A Few Facts on Barre Granite." Other speakers are the lieutenant governor of Connecticut and L. A. Morehouse of the Monumental Retailer.

A long standing "feud" among employees of the postoffice was settled last evening at the bowling alleys of Murphy and Weaver, when a four-string bowling match was rolled between two picked teams. The winning team was made up of Robinson, Gorman, Leslie and Leavitt, and won not only the match, but each of the four legs as well. The losers were Mackay, Craig, Houghton and Kenefick. It is reported that the victors are soon to banquet at Hotel Barre at the expense of the vanquished.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Regular meeting of Ladies' Auxiliary to Clan Gordon will be held Tuesday evening at 7:15 o'clock.

Twenty-fifth annual old and young folks' ball, East Montpelier, Jan. 20. Dances to suit all. Carroll's orchestra.

Mrs. A. Provostoli, who has been passing two weeks with her brother, Peter Puricelli, and with other relatives in Barre and vicinity, returned this morning to her home in Milford, N. H.

William G. Edwards, who visited friends in St. Albans, after accompanying his aunt, Miss Mattie Connon, on a part of her return trip to Saranac Lake, N. Y., returned to the city yesterday.

Thomas W. Roark of East Barre, overseer of the poor for Barre Town, was a visitor in the city yesterday for the first time since he was taken seriously ill nearly two months ago. Mr. Roark is convalescing steadily and expects shortly to regain his former health.

The following item, culled from the St. Albans Messenger's report of proceedings on the opening day of the Vermont State Poultry exhibit in St. Albans will be of interest to local poultry breeders: "The Barred Rocks are not as plentiful as in the past two years, but there is still a good showing. The principal exhibitors are F. C. Evans of Burlington in the cockerel bred line and W. Barclay Scott of Barre, who has a large string of birds in both the cockerel and the pullet bred lines." Mr. Scott went to St. Albans yesterday to look after his birds and intends to stay on the exhibit floor until the show is adjourned.

An Italian supper to be followed by a dance is one of the features planned by the entertainment committee of the Granite Manufacturers' association for the retail monument dealers of Vermont and New Hampshire when they come to the city for their midwinter meeting next week. A committee from the manufacturers includes W. P. Scott, Sec. H. P. Hinman and George Robins. The opening session will be held at Hotel Barre on the morning of Wednesday, Jan. 26. Most of the afternoon will be given over to business and the Italian supper and dance will probably follow in the evening. A trip to the quarries and the freedom of the cutting plants here in Barre are mentioned in the plans for the next day.
